

Now With F.M.L.

Your Herald is beginning the process toward enlargement into an adjacent building, the final stage of a program of expansion, in place, begun seven years ago.

Workmen will soon begin front work on what will be a combined building. Clearing of the adjacent building interior began this week.

It is a test of patience to "put it all together". This program will provide space for personnel, departments, equipment and services for years to come.

So many have helped make this possible, we thank those in general who should be thanked in specific to avoid oversight.

Personal life is submerged in the flow of events which has caught up your Herald since the early 1960s. Hopefully, future projects will allow time for things really important.

NOW-NOW-NOW

There should be enough confidence in the courts, the press and such movements as Common Cause to handle the implications of a Water-gate. "Moral outrage" is not enough to run this country on, particularly in a reform era that has begun in Texas and is beginning to reach every level of government. As the President put it the other night, he would like to see a "renaissance of the individual." So would I.

NOW-NOW-NOW

LADIES TENNIS

A women's tennis association is resulting in Cameron from summer tennis efforts a year or so ago. We understand a once-a-week session is planned for women wishing to improve or take up the game. Mrs. Walter Pyle, both a singles and doubles player, is in charge of organization and tennis development.

I've tried with minimum success to develop greater interest in men's tennis.

This program would justify the additional courts city and school officials have been asked to consider. Two courts simply are not enough.

Potline 2 Restarted

ROCKDALE

When Alcoa's Rockdale Works got the go-ahead to restore idled Potline 2 the many departments "rolled up their sleeves and did it in record time," in the words of Homer Bower, production manager. Start of the idled line brought in 102 employees. The Alcoa Newsletter says "credit for the fast work on Potline 2 goes to 62 recalls who scurried back to work and 40 new hires who underwent a lot of crash training."

Waco Eyes McGregor Airport

McGREGOR

The City of Waco is taking aim at McGregor Airport as a juicy prize in an aggressive land annexation program in 1973. A news story in the Waco Tribune-Herald revealed that Waco will begin in 1973 moving the city limits as far outward in all directions as the law will allow. In easy reach of the annexation program is the airport.

New Water System Studied

HEARNE

A meeting has been held to make tentative plans to organize the Brazos Valley Water Corporation. An officer from Farmers Home Administration and a consulting engineer outlined the proposal for the water system. The system, which would take in a minimum of 100 miles of line, could supply water to any person desiring it in the western part of Robertson County and the eastern part of Milam County.

Floating Tank Poses Threat To Rosebud

Rain last Sunday in Rosebud measured almost four inches, and this, added to heavy rains over the past two weeks in the area was too much for an underground gasoline storage tank at a service station on US 77. The tank was only partially filled with gasoline and all the water underground caused it to float out above the surface.

The tank rose up in Frank Sukup's sweet potato patch, uprooting the yams and posing a threat to the city.

As the tank came up, it turned and a pressure relief pipe broke off, and from the hole ran gasoline. As the fire chief explained, any spark, or thrown cigarette, a lighted match, almost anything could have ignited the fumes from the leaking gas, and an explosion could have occurred.

An explosion within a partially filled steel tank such as that one would be similar to dropping a bomb on that part of Rosebud. It could have flattened all buildings in the vicinity.

The fire marshal ordered the tank filled with water, averting the danger of an explosion.

According to investigating patrolman Larry Hester of Rockdale, Mrs. Tommy Jo Hodge of Rockdale was traveling north on 77 and attempted to make a left turn. A Lot Of Buttons...

Ninety thousand square feet of industrial expansion is underway in Cameron Industrial Park.

This sign of increased job prospects and new vigor in the Cameron area is not included in 1972's $1.27 millions in building permits.

It does include housing starts, doctor's clinic, supermarket and numerous reconstruction projects in the urban renewal area.

All of 1971 saw $461,000 in permits in Cameron. So a conservative estimate of new construction starts, including industry here, push permits thus far toward $1.75 millions or a whopping 300 percent increase over all of 1971.

The downtown project is one energizer in all this, but the peripheral development has exceeded all expectations. Finish of the downtown projects investment is yet to come, including street and curb work which is being measured off right now.

However we measure this, Cameron is undergoing a boom in confidence in the private sector without modern parallel. A few years ago, building permits blossomed with starts for a new hospital and federal housing units. A few more announcements may bring 1972 totals near the $2 million mark.

It is safe to say that more good news in community development will continue through this year and into 1973. A lot of buttons are being pushed.

It took a lot of years to build the control panel.

Plenty Of Rain....

Anywhere from 6.5 to 8.4 inches were reported in rainfall around the Milam area during the past 10 days. Central Texas pastures and land should be adequately soaked.

Agriculture authority here notes that ponds or tanks are about filled with the rainfall. One note, which should encourage completion of Elm Creek Watershed, is that extensive flooding was reported in that area, even requiring closing several farm to market roads. That area some day is slated to have 25 or more water control structures or dams 5 to 50 acres in size which would curtail such things.

The agriculture picture, like the community picture, is looking far better than a few weeks ago. Things have a way of working out.

"Low Down"
FROM THE Congressional Record
By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

NATIONAL HEALTH ACT INTRODUCED IN HOUSE

REP. JOHN M. MURPHY (N.Y.)...The legislation I am introducing today, the HEALTH SECURITY ACT of 1972 (H.R. 16372), shifts the weight of the responsibility for assuring each American necessary health care to the Federal Government, and provides the means by which it can be satisfied.

"The fact is that many Americans are deprived of adequate health care. A glance at comparative statistics reveals a situation which is truly appalling, and it is incongruous that the richest and most technically sophisticated country in the world trails 12 nations in infant mortality rates, six in maternal mortality rates, 17 in life expectancy for males, and 10 in life expectancy for females. While the figures shock, they are a painfully accurate indicator of the unnecessary condition of health care in this Nation...

"Many self-supporting victims of disabling accidents and chronic illnesses, facing open ended liabilities for $100-a-day hospital rooms, thousands of dollars of laboratory costs, and precious surgeons fees, meagerly proected by insurance policies with very limited commitments, have had their worst fears realized. And, each American lives in a perpetual state of insecurity, knowing that, "There but for the grace of God go I."

"Unaffected by the natural incentives arising from the competition within most industries, due largely to the critical manpower shortage within the medical profession, physicians "arrange" their prices largely among themselves, locate in the more affluent and professionally attractive areas, and fail to provide measures for true quality control.

"Institutions, such as hospitals and nursing homes, often suffer from similar problems. Like the medical professionals, THEY DO NOT COMPETE with their fellow institutions. Thus, they often operate inefficiently and uneconomically, and locate where they wish, rather than where they are most needed.

"This bill substantially follows the KENNEDY BILL, and it establishes the blueprint for a federally administered program of national health care which will offer EVERY AMERICAN, REGARDLESS OF HIS ABILITY TO PAY, comprehensive services, including physician's services, inpatient and outpatient care and essential supporting services such as podiatry and optometry. REPLACING THE PRIVATE INSURERS, THE GOVERNMENT WOULD BE RESPONSIBLE FOR FINANCING ESSENTIALLY THE ENTIRE HEALTH CARE SYSTEM..."

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

THE HEALTH SECURITY ACT (H.R. 16372) is pure, "PIE IN THE SKY." The present shortage within the medical profession is admitted. The skyrocketing costs of the Medicare program should convince the most skeptical that physicians treat people, not politicians.

Constitutional Restrictions Causing Crisis In Courts

By Bill Boykin

"There were 55,000 criminal trials pending in district courts and 216,000 civil cases pending on dockets in Texas at the beginning of 1972," former Texas Chief Justice Robert Calvert told those attending the Governor's fourth annual Traffic Safety Public Support Conference in Austin. The "crisis in our courts" has been caused by the constitutional restrictions on the Judicial Article, Judge Calvert explained.

Judge Calvert outlined problems in the present judicial system in Texas-- explaining that they were analyzed by the 1972 Chief Justice's Task Force for Court Improvement.

The major problems are (1) docket congestion and trial delay; (2) proper administration and (3) proper election of judges.

Proposals for complete reorganization of Texas courts will be presented to the 1973 Legislature, "the former Chief Justice continued. "Opposition will come from elected officials who are afraid it will affect their jobs.

"Judicial reform is doomed for this generation if public support does not overcome the opposition to these proposed changes in the Judicial Article of the Texas Constitution," he concluded.

A citizen's conference to gain support for the proposed judicial reform will be held in Austin on November 17-- at which time specific legislative proposals will be outlined for the public and press.

REVENUE SHARING

The Texas Department of Community Affairs has been designated as the agency to provide information and aid to local governments in federal revenue sharing implementation.

Designation of the agency for liaison between state-federal and local governments was agreed on at a meeting of the new Texas Revenue Sharing Council.

Texas is expected to receive about $245 million during 1972 under the new federal revenue sharing program. About $163 million of that will go to local governments, and $81.5 million to state government.

The council, said Gov. Preston Smith, is not to interfere with individual decisions of local governments. Its purpose is to assist the local units with legal constraints and federal rules and regulations.

Council members directed the Department of Community Affairs to establish and man an Office of Revenue Sharing Assistance to local governments. The department, Texas Municipal League and Texas Association of Counties will assist the Treasury Department in completing lists of eligible governments and their officials.

The Department of Community Affairs was further ordered to plan a statewide workshop on revenue sharing for local officials.

Texas was termed "best prepared" of any state to begin implementation of revenue sharing.

Members of the Revenue Sharing Council include the Governor, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, House Speaker Rayford Price, Seguin Mayor Al Koebig, Houston Mayor Louie Welch, Victoria Mayor Kemper Williams Jr., Nueces County Judge Barnes, Ector County Commissioner Kellus Turner and Bexar County Commissioner Frank Vaughan Jr.

COURTS SPEAK

Former State Sen David Ratliff of Stamford was found guilty by a Travis County district court jury of theft of state paychecks made out to a one-time employee and drew a 10 year probated sentence.

The Texas Supreme Court upheld a one-year suspension of license for a Dallas lawyer who allegedly embezzled $2,772 of a client's money. The State Bar of Texas wanted the lawyer disbarred, but lower courts settled on the suspension instead.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals dashed hopes of Texas Fine Arts Association to inherit the Austin home of the late artist Wayman Adams.

Plans to pay off depositors of the closed W. L. Moody Co., Bankers, Uninc., Galveston, were delayed by federal district court after the state filed a motion to intervene.

The Court of Criminal Appeals scheduled a December 12 hearing on the appeal of former State Rep. Walter Knapp of Amarillo from a four-year prison sentence for theft by false pretext. AG OPINIONS

Results of blood tests of drivers suspected of intoxication do not have to be disclosed to insurance companies and credit associations, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin Held.

In other recent opinions, Martin Concluded:

* A retired judge may be appointed a Court of Criminal Appeals Commissioner on his consent.

* A bill appropriating funds for establishment of an occupational extension center of public junior college is constitutional.

* A state employee who resigns or is dismissed must be paid for all duly accrued vacation time.

* Texas Real Estate Commission may require licensees to use a specified contract form when acting as real estate brokers or salesmen.

* A member of the state Board of Physical Therapy Examiners may not hold the position of executive secretary of the board.

* Bell County commissioners have no power to make the county maintenance fund a single fund collected and spent countywide without regard to precinct lines.

* The 15 cent special county road and bridge tax fund levy and the farm-to-market and lateral road tax fund may not be transferred into the general fund or used for any purpose other than roads and bridges.

Burma Battles Snail Invasion

By Min Thu

RANGOON, Burma
Burma is battling an invasion of snails and cockroaches and the government has asked the World Health Organization (W.H.O.) for help.

"The snails are coming," blared a headline in one Rangoon newspaper.

While the approach may have been light, the situation is serious.

The capital is crawling with millions of yellow-striped snails which the experts say were picked up by Burmese ships calling at African ports.

It was not certain where the cockroaches came from. But newspaper reports said they slipped into the country in packing material from abroad and are more resistant to disinfectants than the local breed.

The snail invasion also raised the question of whether or not the snails could be eaten.

Some papers reported that the snails were edible. Others were adamant that they were not. The health department intervened, pronouncing that the snails should not be eaten since they carry rat lung worm which causes a type of meningitis.

State-owned newspapers say the snails are destroying crops and other vegetation and have become a public menace. They litter footpaths and gardens and stick by the thousands to the sides of buildings.

Civil-minded students have been mobilized to scour the streets, collecting them in baskets and killing them with salt.

The snails, biologically known as Achatina Falca, were first sighted in Rangoon about 1958 and soon spread to the surrounding districts. They lay about 400 eggs at a time -- and lay three times during the rainy season.

The Burmese authorities are conducting urgent research to combat the snail plague and have asked the World Health Organization for their advice.

The Burmese want to know how other countries got rid of the snails--without shipping them off to a foreign land.

DPS Creates Task Force To Combat Vehicle Thefts

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety said today the DPS has created a highly specialized task force to coordinate a statewide effort with local and other authorities to combat commercialized motor vehicle thefts, both in and out of the state.

Colonel Wilson E. Speir announced that a select group of 15 DPS officers has been assigned to the new Motor Vehicle Theft Section which will devote all its efforts to an attack on such operations.

It is estimated that some 50,000 vehicles were stolen in Texas last year, with such thefts up 17 per cent over 1970. These crimes, alone, resulted in a monetary loss to the general public estimated at over $35 million.

Speir said the problem is expected to increase. He noted that already the rate of vehicle thefts has outstripped the rate of growth of population and vehicle registrations at state and national levels. Motor vehicle thefts nationally rose 183 per cent from 1960 to 1970.

"Members of the new DPS section have been ordered to carry out appropriate investigative activities in an effort to reduce motor vehicle thefts on a statewide basis," Speir said.

The new section was created within the Criminal Law Enforcement Division of the DPS with the assistance of a Federal grant through the Governor's Criminal Justice Council. It will investigate thefts of all type vehicles including automobiles, boats, motorcycles, heavy equipment, mobile homes, travel trailers and boat power units.

The section's investigators will be stationed at strategic locations across the state.

Gotta hang-up?

Get an electric dryer.

The day you do, drippy washday hang-ups simply dry up and go away! So do worries about rainy days, dusty days, heavy baskets of wet wash and scratchy towels.

With a modern electric dryer, any time--night or day--is a good wash 'n' dry time. Clothes stay clean and smell fresh. Towels go soft as a dandelion puff and most wrinkles fluff away--cutting pressing time to nothing. And the gentle, even heat of an electric dryer is exactly right for wash-and-wear fabrics!

TP&L suggests you see your electric appliance dealer today and let him explain all the conveniences of an electric dryer.

'Generation' Set At Playhouse

A laugh-studded comedy about a sharp sparring match between the older and the younger generations, aptly called "Generation," will open Wednesday, November 8, (after a preview on Tuesday night) at the Country Dinner Playhouse.

And to add even more laughs to an already laugh-filled play, the Country Dinner Playhouse will have Willard Waterman in the lead.

Waterman, who can currently be seen on television answering a lot of phones in an Alka-Seltzer commercial, is perhaps best known for his role as the Great Gildersleeve, both on radio and on TV. TV viewers will also remember him from the series "Dennis the Menace".

Waterman starred in the motion picture "Auntie Mame" with Rosalind Russell and was later featured in the same role of Mr. Babcock in the Broadway company of the musical "Mame".

Written by William Goodhart, "Generation" was one of New York's biggest comedy hits in the 1965-66 season, when it ran an even 300 performances, and it was later toured widely to Chicago, Detroit, San Francisco and other cities.

In "Generation", Willard Waterman (Jim) will be seen as a doting father from Chicago who has hastened to New York to visit his just-married daughter and to meet the man she has picked as a husband. Ruefully regretting that their sudden marriage did him out of walking down the aisle to give the bride away "with champagne, women crying and all that," he is all the same eager to make friends with his new son-in-law.

The play's humor rises from the hard-sledding this effort entails, since the son-in-law is a thorny, denim-shirted, scornful rebel with an exaggerated sense of integrity and a battery of instant sneers to fling at his father-in-law and just about everybody else who, he insists, has "sold out to The System." The touchy groom even waves off an offered wedding-present check, least it limit his independence.

John Bowab has, once again, directed this production for the Country Dinner Playhouse, which plays nightly, except Monday, with matinees on Saturday and Sunday. Reservations are necessary and may be made by calling the theatre, 836-5921.

14 Amendments Face November 7 Voters

AMENDMENT NO. 8

Amending Art. IV, Secs. 4, 22 and 23 of the Texas Constitution to provide four-year terms for the offices of Governor, Lt. Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller of Public Accounts, Treasurer, Commissioner of the General Land Office, Secretary of State and certain statutory state offices.

Proponents of the four-year term argue that officials would have an opportunity to grasp the operation of the job and be more efficient in it before they were forced to go back into campaigns for re-election. As this amendment would become effective with the General Election in 1974 it would perpetuate elections for state offices in non-presidential years and generate a stronger interest in state politics.

Opponents of the amendment point out that long terms of office lead to corruption, that too much power is inherent in long terms and they make the official less responsive to the rise and fall of public opinion. As there is no limitation on succession, a governor holding two four-year terms would completely dominate every state agency by appointment.

Proponents of the amendment argue that in the less populous areas of the state would increase the available manpower by permitting public officials to fill them.

Opponents of the amendment insist that the present prohibitions were intended to prevent the concentration of public jobs among a relative few and that multiple office holding would too greatly divide the time and attention of officials to permit the performance of either function efficiently and capably.

AMENDMENT NO. 10

Amending Art. XVII, Sec. 1 of the Texas Constitution to revise provisions on the time of proposing amendments to the state constitution and the time and method of publishing notice of the proposed amendment.

Proponents argue that the amendment would permit greater flexibility in the submission of amendments and provide better information to the general electorate as to what they were voting on.

Opponents of the amendment insist that basic changes should be considered carefully and a 30-day special session would not provide enough time for proper consideration of proposed amendments.

AMENDMENT NO. 11

Amending Art. IV, Sec. 17 of the Texas Constitution

tion in adding a new Sec. 24a to Art. III to provide a salary of $22,500 for the Lt. Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Proponents of the amendment argue that the leadership and administrative ability demanded of presiding officers puts these offices in the same relative importance as other full-time state officials and they should be so compensated.

Opponents of the amendment argue that the Speaker of the House should not receive the same amount of salary as the Lt. Governor as he is not elected on a state-wide basis but is selected by the members of the House of Representatives.

AMENDMENT NO. 12

Amending Art. XVI, Secs. 33 and 40 of the Texas Constitution to allow state employees and certain other persons to serve on the governing bodies of school districts without forfeiting their state salary, and otherwise to revise generally the restrictions on dual office holding and dual compensation.

Proponents of the amendment argue that in some cities, school districts or other governmental subdivisions state employees are a large percentage of the population and the amendment would allow these persons to serve on city councils and school boards in such communities without sacrificing their state salaries.

Opponents insist that there is sufficient number of qualified citizens in any community to fill local offices and that service in two capacities would result in heavy work loads prohibiting the public employee from giving his full abilities in his state job.

AMENDMENT NO. 13

Increasing the maximum interest rate which may be borne by certain bonds issued under constitutional authority by adding a new Sec. 65 to Art. III. A number of provisions of the Texas Constitution place a maximum limit on the amount of interest which may be prescribed by certain public agencies for bonds they issue.

Proponents of the amendment argue that its adoption would permit certain state and local agencies now under restrictions to compete for sale of their bonds in the open market on an even footing with other entities, enabling them to continue to enlarge upon many state and local programs.

Opponents argue that increasing the constitutional limit would provide higher interest rates and therefore require more revenues to pay off the bonded indebtedness, and would encourage various agencies to rely even more upon the creation of bonded indebtedness as a means of financing future needs.

AMENDMENT NO. 14

Amending Art. VII of the Texas Constitution by adding a new Sec. 6b to permit the commissioner's court of a county to reduce the county permanent school fund and provide for per scholastic distribution and use of the money obtained from this reduction. The proposal would allow the commissioner's court of a county to distribute a portion of the county permanent school fund to school districts in the county on a scholastic population basis for the purpose of reducing bonded indebtedness or making permanent improvements.

Proponents argue that many school districts need new facilities and lack funds to finance them. Some have already issued bonds to the statutory limits and others have reluctant electorates who repeatedly refuse the issuance of new bonds. Utilization of a portion of the county permanent fund would relieve the financial strain on school districts and provide adequate educational facilities in the counties.

Opponents argue that a reduction in the funds would reduce the income to the available school fund and therefore create a need for a larger state expenditure in the support of education.

The first in a series of three programs on home landscape will start at 7 p.m. Monday, November 6, in the First National Bank Civic Room.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Hilliard S. Thomas of Cameron visited her daughter Marion during Stephens College Parents' Weekend on the college campus at Columbia Missouri October 20-22. During the weekend more than 1,400 parents from 40 states visited academic departments, attended classes and met teachers and administrators. Production of "Cactus Flower" and a Stephens production of "Arts on Stage" featured students in music, dance and theatre arts.

Visiting in the Lloyd Cowans home last weekend were their children Mr. and Mrs. James Fikes of Houston and Mr. Floyd Huffman of Ft. Walton Beach, Florida and Dr. and Mrs. Elzy Hatch of San Antonio. Special occasions during the visit were the reunion of the Yoe Class of 1937 attended by Mr. Huffman and a birthday dinner on Sunday honoring Dr. Hatch.

Newtons Host Party

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Newton assisted by the Turner Newtons of Houston entertained out of town guests attending their first Charolais sale at a Pre-Sale party Thursday night at Temple Country Club.

Massive arrangements of bronze and gold mums decorated the reception rooms and centered the buffet table. Dining tables were centered with low arrangements of the bronze mums.

During the evening guests were entertained by the Loyd Edwards Band.

The Newtons were also hosts for a barbeque at their Milano ranch on Friday.

Miss Kathy Lynn Cunningham became the bride of Gerard O. Mayer, in St. Ann's Catholic Church of Rosebud, Saturday, November 4, at 6 p.m. Father Patrick Johnson officiated at the double-ring ceremony performed before an altar banked with baskets of white gladiolas, greenery, and candelabras of lighted tapers. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Vera M. Cunningham of Rosebud, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mayer of Burlington.

Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Walter Crenan of Burlington; and Miss Kathy Parks of Rosebud was soloist. Her selection was "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Horace C. Long, her grandfather wore a formal A-line silk satin gown fashioned with a Venise lace empire bodice, portrait neckline, long tapered sleeves, and lace bordered hemline. Her chapel length English net mantilla was outlined in matching lace. She observed the traditions by wearing "something old, something new, something borrowed, and something blue" and a penny in her shoe.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid corsage, in a setting of white satin streamers and looped pearls, all placed on a white bride's Bible.

Miss Vicki Cunningham served her sister as maid of honor. She wore an emerald green crepe formal gown fashioned with an empire waist and accented with a large bow in the back and by puffed sleeves. She carried a cascade bouquet of gold mums, and wore a cluster of green flowers in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ernest Ehler, Jr., of Temple; Mrs. Michael Speer of Rockdale and Miss Beverly Miller of Pasadena, both cousins of the bride; Miss Deana Casey of Cedar Springs; and Miss Kim Davis of Waco, niece of the groom. Flower girl was Melissa Halunka of Rosebud. Their ensembles were like that of the maid of honor.

Miss Halunka carried a basket of white rose petals.

Best man was Terry Mayer of Rosebud, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Mark Kostroun of Cameron, nephew of the groom; Marvin Cunningham, brother of the bride, David Hertenberger, Johnny Meier, and Gene Kevill, of Rosebud. Ringbearer was Master Richard Hileman of Rosebud. Candle lighters were Chip Kostroun of Cameron, nephew of the groom, and Michael Kleypas of Burlington, cousin of the groom. Ushers were Mike Cunningham, brother of the bride, and Steve Warschak, both of Rosebud.

The mother of the bride wore a moss green double knit dress accented with long bell sleeves. The mother of the groom wore a navy and white shirt waist dress. Both had white carnation shoulder corsages.

Immediately after the church ceremony, a reception was held at the St. Ann's Parish Center. The bride's table was laid with a white net cloth and centered with a large white lighted candle surrounded by the bouquets of the bridesmaids. Cake was served from a four-tiered wedding cake at one end, and lime sherbert punch from a crystal bowl at the other end.

Miss Sheryl Hilmers of Houston, cousin of the bride registered the guests in the bride's book. Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Dennis Hilmers of Houston, cousin of the bride; Mrs. David Ondrasek of Westphalia; and Miss Christine Blann of Cedar Springs. Miss Jeanie Hileman and Mrs. Johnny Meier of Rosebud served chocolate cake and coffee from the groom's table.

The couple will live in Cameron where both are employed.

The bride is a 1972 honor graduate of Rosebud-Lott High School, and the groom, a 1968 graduate of Yoe High School in Cameron.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents Thursday night, at the Burlington Recreation Center in Burlington.

Business Is On Upswing For Aluminum Industry

W. H. Krome George, Alcoa's chief operating officer and newly elected president of the Aluminum Association, told the organization's annual meeting Friday that business is on the upswing for the aluminum industry in the U. S. and overseas. Aluminum Company of America introduced the industry to the Southwest in 1950 and today, with smelters at Rockdale and Polm Comfort, produces more aluminum in Texas than in any other state. Its Rockdale plant in Central Texas is the company's largest with an installed capacity of 280,000 tons annually. "Now that the economy has regained its vigor, primary aluminum production in the U. S. is virtually in balance with demand."

George told industry leaders. "Other national economies are moving up and I believe we can look forward to a world balance much sooner than many of us were predicting a year ago."

George said domestic aluminum shipments this year will be 10 to 12 percent ahead of 1971, with "strong successes" in such markets as equipment for the liquefied natural gas industry, transportation and home building.

With business looking up, George said one of the most important jobs now before the industry is to lay to rest "the misleading statements and comparisons being made about aluminum and the energy crisis."

He asserted. "Some individuals and organizations are saying that we ought to cut back on aluminum production because it wastes our energy resources. They claim it takes six times, or maybe 11 times, or even 20 times, as much energy to produce aluminum as it does steel. "But they're wrong, because they start with the wrong assumptions, employ the wrong data, and end with wrong conclusions."

"These power pundits don't recognize that people use finished products, not ingot. They do not consider all forms of energy used in producing a finished product, but compare only the electrical energy used to make an ingot. They fail to reckon with the fact that a pound of aluminum is three times larger than a pound of steel."

REAL ESTATE-

And they pay no attention to recycling, even though we conserve 95 percent of the energy that would be required to make new metal when we recycle aluminum."

There are two and a half times more beverage cans in a pound of aluminum than there are in a pound of steel, George noted.

"The total energy consumed to make a finished all-aluminum beverage can is very close to that required for a steel or bimetallic can -- a ratio on the order of 1.3 to 1. When its recycling advantages are considered, aluminum comes out ahead."

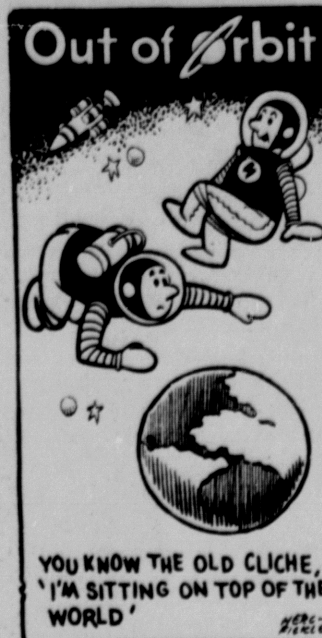

And, of course, none of this takes into account the superiority of aluminum as a packaging material -- which is why it is used in the first place."

George also refuted critics' charges that the industry pollutes the air, litter, the landscape and is short of bauxite, the ore of aluminum.

Aluminum - bearing ores, he said, are the most plentiful of all ores in the earth's crust, most producers have extensive bauxite reserves and are finding vast new deposits, and "definite progress" is being made in developing processes for refining other aluminum ores.

He urged association members to "go on the offensive with the facts" that aluminum is an environmentally positive material and "may well be the hero" in litter because it is "the economic key to successful recycling of municipal solid waste."

Give a hoot! Don't pollute.

DISTRICT CHAMPS — Cameron's Boy Scout Troop 752, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, walked off with top honors in the annual Texas District Camporee at Birch Creek State Park on the shores of Lake Somerville. The Cameron unit represented by 19 youngsters and headed by Scout Master Felix Matula won four of the five camporee contests and captured a First Award for overall camping skills during the weekend event. Pictured here around their campfire are, from left, David Fincher, Joey Mondrik, Matula, Darrell Vybral and Chip Kostroun. Approximately 80 Scout and adult leaders participated in the 1972 outing.

Murray-go-Round

By Tom Murray

Of course, a good bit of the time since its 1960 birth, the Houston Oiler Organization, to use the word loosely, has been a circus. So, it was appropriate that Houston GM John Breen, explaining a Bad Boy Trade to the press boiled, "You guys just write about 'em. We have to live with these clowns." (Oiler Players). . . One thing can be said about Oiler Coach Bill Peterson: He knows how to draw controversial headlines. Consider that off-the-bench tackle his Florida State sub made on a long-gone Houston Cougar which Coach Pete later condoned in print. Consider his original backing out on Rice after having agreed to take their job. Then, consider his walking off from that 10-year contract after one season, with Rice Prexy Norman Hackerman publicly threatening to sue him.

Peterson is lucky he came along in a different era than Dizzy Dean. Otherwise he would be in for another storm. Remember how the English teachers in the St. Louis era stormed that St. Louis Radio Station in violent protest because Dean's bad grammar was not a proper example to their pupils? Well, Ol' Diz sounds like an English Prof., himself, when Coach Pete gets strung out in his Petersonese.

REVENGE, MOURNING

Well, this is Revenge Week for SMU and Arkansas and a day of mourning at Fort Worth. When explosive SMU ties into Darrell Royal's University of Texas Longhorns Saturday the Ponies will be out to avenge an alleged robbery. SMU Coach Hayden Fry has fumed, in print, for a year that officials gave the 1971 game to Texas. . . . You know Arkansas comes to Aggieland to rap the Farmers for knocking the Razorbacks out of the 1971 title in one of the SWC's All-time most startling upsets. . . . TCU hosts Baylor one-year after its Popular Boss Jim Pittman died on the sidelines at Baylor Stadium in Waco.

Frank Broyles, told his TV audience, the difference between 1971, when his defense wiped out Texas, and the Austin Rain Dance when UT romped to that 35-15 victory, was Roosevelt Leaks.

"Last year, Texas' fullback was ineffective so we flooded wide at the snap and were able to stop their pitch and the Quarterback Keeper. But, Leaks is a magnificent runner in the middle and we had to stay in. Sometimes they caught us in between" . . . Broyles, on the Wishbone he will meet at Aggieland, also said after the Texas game: "Everytime you think you have the Wishbone figured, it jumps up and bites you. We thought we had it figured after we stopped Texas in 1969. Then it jumped up and bit us in 1970. We thought we had it figured in 1971. And, now it has jumped up and bit us again."

Want a tip on the 1972 SWC Champion? How about Arkansas? Well, they are in the exact spot Royal's UT Burnt Orange was a year ago. And, incredibly, the Longhorns won it all.

Yoe Downs Eagles 14-7

By Marilyn Hauk

For the first time in five years the Cameron Yoemen defeated the Georgetown Eagles with a score of 14-7. Halfback Virgil Jones grabbed two Eagle passes. After handing the ball over twice Georgetown scored on its third possession in the first quarter. They recieved Jackie Chubb's punt at the Cameron 36. Shen Ragsdale took a pitchout from Quarterback Steve Doering and ramblbed to the 10. From here another pitch out be Ragsdale and Doering resulted in an Eagle TD. The PAT was good and the Eagles led 7-0.

In the second half the Yoemen came back with only thoughts of scoring. Five plays later their determination paid off. George Whiteside grabbed the ball and carried it to the Georgetown 34. From this point they steadily drove the ball to the Yoe 3 and Whiteside carried it across. With Gene Kopriva's kick the score was tied 7-7. Early in the fourth quarter Jones intercepted a pass at Georgetown 34 and carried it across. With Gene carried it 8 yards to the Georgetown 26. Two plays later Quarterback Will Turner had carried the ball to the Georgetown 19. George Whiteside carried to the G-2 in three plays, then stepped over for another Cameron TD. With Kopriv's kick the final score was 14-7.
